India's first multi-distilled vodka. Romanov Red is made from multiple grains during different harvest seasons and carefully selected with the upmost care to retain the natural characters. Grounded, and then fermented it is further refined through a multi-distilled and multi-filtered technique that is finally blended to perfection with a rigorous 7-step manufacturing process to result in a blend that is smoother than smooth.

United Breweries (UB) is the largest and most prestigious brewery in India. Romanov is one of UB's most successful brands and they wanted to expand the range by adding Romanov Red, a premium brand of vodka. Romanov gets its name from the last Czar of Russia and true to its calling remains committed to making the finest vodkas, the way Russians traditionally make their vodka.
